

Sri Lankan Culture and Heritage Celebrates at the Heritage Festival of George Mason University

The Embassy of Sri Lanka in Washington D.C., in collaboration with “Ceylon Bera”, a Sri Lankan group for performing arts, took part in the Art exhibition and the concert organized by the George Mason University, in partnership with the Asian American Music Society on 01st May 2022 at Fairfax campus premises, Virginia. The festival has commemorated the beginning of the month for celebrating the Asian American Native Hawaiian Pacific Islander Heritage in promoting diversity, inclusion, and multicultural education.

Recently graduated students, undergraduates, representatives from Asian communities and diplomatic Missions participated in the Asian Arts exhibition and concert held at the premises of the Center for the Arts. A group of drummers and dancers of 'Ceylon Bera' led by Indika Attanayake received acclamation from the audience. The Embassy of Sri Lanka also organized an exhibition at the event highlighting Sri Lankan culture and heritage while showcasing a range of vibrant Sri Lankan products, including Ceylon tea, spices and tourist attractions of Sri Lanka.

